This book is published for the exclusive use of AAA members. It is not for sale.

Using Your Directory

For your convenience, AAA publishes this complete directory of the service stations and garages that are under contract with AAA. These stations have been carefully selected for their competent rendering of those emergency services required by AAA members. AAA welcomes letters from members regarding either exceptional or unsatisfactory service received from AAA stations.

Establishments are listed under the nearest appropriate town. Following the name of the garage or station are the phone numbers to call during the day D, at night N, or at all times D & N. The letter W indicates wrecker service.

If a number appears in parentheses after the name of the town, it corresponds to the number of the club with which the station has a contract. In some states, however, all AAA stations are under contract with one club. A note as to which situation applies precedes the listings in each state. All clubs are listed in the back of the book.

When You Need Help

First, find the nearest AAA contract service station in your Emergency Service Directory. Unless you're instructed to call the local AAA club, telephone directly to the garage. Give your name, address and membership number; the make, model, year and license plate number of your car; its exact location and symptoms; and the telephone number from which you are calling.

Should your trouble occur on a turnpike, freeway or other controlled-access highway, pull onto the shoulder as far as possible and stop. Raise the hood; hand a white cloth from the driver's side of the car. Then await the arrival of a police officer or emergency vehicle. On some controlled-access highways, AAA service will be summoned upon request.

In areas where there are no AAA contract stations, call the nearest garage and pay for the service. Obtain a receipted bill to be submitted to your home club for consideration.

What You Should Know About Your Car

PREVENTIVE MAINTENANCE MEANS A CAREFREE TRIP

To insure a safer, trouble-free trip take your car to your favorite AAA serviceman for a thorough checkup—you'll be glad you did. Here is a list of items that should be given particular attention:

TUNEUP

An engine tuneup is always a wise investment. Have the ignition points, spark plugs, battery, voltage regulator, generator and all wiring checked. Be certain that the mechanic inspects the muffler and tailpipe.

LUBRICATION

A thorough lubrication job will lessen wear on vital moving parts. Change to the grade of oil recommended for the driving conditions you expect to encounter. Install a new oil filter cartridge. Check all hydraulic fluid levels.

COOLING SYSTEM

Have the cooling system cleaned and flushed; refill with a good permanent-type antifreeze or add a rust inhibitor. Have the thermostat, fan belt and water pump checked.

BRAKES, TIRES, WHEELS

Have the brake linings inspected and check the brake seals. Have the tires rotated; replace worn or damaged tires to eliminate blowouts and flat tire worries. Check the wheel alignment and balance—unaligned and unbalanced tires cause excessive and uneven wear. Be sure shock absorbers are in good condition. In addition to causing discomfort, bad shock absorbers can be dangerous.

VISION

Windshield wipers, headlights, turn signals, backup and brake lights should all be checked for perfect operation.

KANSAS TURNPIKE

The Kansas Turnpike is patrolled regularly, day and night, by the Kansas Highway Patrol. Patrol cars are equipped with two-way radio for instant communication with service areas, interchanges or Turnpike headquarters. If in need of emergency road service, drive completely off the highway and stop on right shoulder. Raise the hood or tie a white handkerchief to the left front door handle. A cruising patrolman will stop and summon aid.

FORT WORTH-DALLAS TURNPIKE

The Turnpike is patrolled regularly, day and night, by the Texas Highway Patrol. Patrol cars are equipped with two-way radio for instant communication with service areas, interchanges or Turnpike headquarters. If in need of Emergency Road Service, drive completely off the highway and stop on the right shoulder. Place a white cloth in the left front window or raise the hood. A cruising patrolman will stop and summon aid.

MEXICO

Mexico operates jeeps and trucks that patrol the roads as troubleshooters.

Manned by two English-speaking mechanics, the 88 vehicles cruise the major tourist routes from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. Because of their color, these patrols are known as the "Green Fleet." They carry tools, spare parts, first-aid equipment, maps and guides, hauling chains and two-way radios to aid tourists who experience flat tires, motor trouble, empty gas tanks and other highway emergencies. The service is free; parts are extra.

NEVER LEAVE VALUABLES IN YOUR CAR!

Garages and parking lots may not be responsible legally for the loss or theft of articles from your car.

Assurance sometimes is made by garages and parking lots that baggage, clothing, cameras or other property will be safe if left in your car.

Disregard such assurances! You may have no legal claim if your property is missing.

TRAVEL TIPS

WHEN ON A TRIP . . .

START EARLY - Avoid Heavy Traffic

STOP EARLY - For Good Accommodations

DESERT DRIVING

DESERT DRIVING is no longer subject to the hazards and discomforts once encountered. Today the major highways are excellent and well traveled, and there are air-conditioned accommodations and frequent service areas. Much of the terrain is mountainous and, although extremely arid, it supports an interesting variety of plant life.

The nature of the desert, however, calls for certain precautions. Maintain a reasonable speed and don't overwork your car in the heat. The combination of the arid climate, long stretches of unbroken roadway and high speed can quickly cause a breakdown of driver reaction that may result in highway hypnosis.

During the summer months, the motorist should plan to drive in the early morning and evening hours, thus avoiding the heat of the sun between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Never attempt to walk any distance in the desert. The person with a heart condition should consult his physician before undertaking desert travel.

Sudden and often unpredicted sandstorms and rainstorms frequently occur in the desert. Drivers who encounter such unexpected storms should pull well off the highway and stop. For information on current weather conditions, keep your radio tuned to local stations.

Simple rules in regard to your automobile and the desert are:

1. Check your tires in the morning to normal driving pressure. Artificial heat pressure will build up in them during the day. If you think the tires are riding hard, stop along the road until the tires cool.

2. Check the water and oil when buying gasoline. Unless you have a faulty radiator it should not be necessary to add water if you drive at a sensible speed. Watch your water temperature gauge, especially on long upgrades. It might be wise to carry a container of water for emergencies.

MOUNTAIN MOTORING

MOTORING through the mountains should and can be a most enjoyable experience with but a few common sense rules. Most mountain roadways are improved routes with wide and easy grades. The regions are scenic, so don't rush. Maintain an even and safe speed and stop at the overlooks to view the panorama.

The following suggestions will help you get the most out of your trip through the mountains while keeping wear and tear on your car to a minimum.

1. Always keep to the right half of the road, especially on curves and grades.

2. Heed the signs which indicate the maximum safe driving speeds on curves and grades.

3. On downgrades, don't ride your brakes. Slow down by shifting into a lower gear. Always remain in gear—coasting is dangerous. Avoid burdening your engine on a steep climb by shifting to low gear when your speedometer drops below 20 miles per hour.

4. It is wise to carry a container of water as you travel. Because high altitude reduces the boiling point of water, your radiator should be full.

5. If your engine becomes overheated and stops—although the gas tank is full—there may be condensation in the fuel line known as vapor lock. Place a damp cloth over the fuel pump for a few minutes.

6. Check your carburetor before starting out; it may require some adjustment for driving at high altitudes.

Be a Gas Watcher

Make 5 gallons do the work of 6.

It's easy when you know how. All it takes is some willpower and the tips below.

YOUR CAR

- Keep the engine in tune. Check plugs, points, fuel and air filters and emission control devices.
- Keep tires inflated to the maximum recommended pressure.
- Prevent gas-tank overflow by not filling it to the neck.

PLAN AHEAD

- Select the optimum route in terms of distance and type of highway. An AAA Travel Counselor can assist you.
- Travel light and avoid using a car-top rack. The less weight and wind resistance, the better the mileage.
- Combine short trips, such as visits, errands and shopping.

YOUR DRIVING

- The most economical speed varies from car to car. Therefore, find and maintain the moderate, legal speed that is best for your vehicle.
- Accelerate smoothly and gradually; fast "getaways" eat gas.
- Maintain a steady speed as traffic permits.
- Anticipate traffic signals to minimize stop-and-go driving.
- Build up speed before reaching an up-hill grade, not on it.
- Turn off the engine if you must park for more than a minute.
- Reduce long warm-ups by driving slowly rather than idling a cold engine.
- Reduce the use of air conditioning.

WHEREVER YOUR TRAVELS TAKE YOU, YOU'RE AMONG FRIENDS WITH AAA!

This directory of AAA Emergency Service outlets has been published for your convenience. It contains the names and telephone numbers of many of the AAA "friends" whose services are available to you in the areas through which your trip will take you. Naturally, we hope you won't need it, because breakdowns are never really convenient—no matter where they occur. It will serve as a guide, however, to the most reliable service stations and garages along your route.

You will also find that you have friends in the over 870 motor clubs and branches which comprise the American Automobile Association. These men and women are dedicated to serving you and helping you with all your travel needs. So, when travel difficulties arise, stop in at the nearest AAA office for cordial, friendly assistance.

We appreciate your giving us this opportunity to serve you and to counsel with you on your travels. We hope your trip proves to be a very pleasant one, as trouble-free as possible and one of you. most enjoyable experiences.
